Why worry about starting first time?

Red Diesel composition changed in 2011, Reduced sulphur (natural biocide) and increased Biodiesel (7%) has led to a series of potential issues for diesel boat owners to occur in standing / stored diesel in the UK. After storing your boat through winter, there is now an increased chance of the fuel degrading, waxing up over winter and increasing water content, leading to potential contamination during this period.

OneShot Diesel First Start was developed primarily for boats to enhance winter stored diesel fuel to ensure your boat starts quickly and efficiently by providing a rapid clean of the internal engine parts, lines and filters, thus improving burn efficiency, reduce black smoke / particulates and ensure that any contamination problems are identified quickly before you begin cruising.

OneShot Diesel First Start can be added to the fuel tank or directly to the fuel filters (where accessible) and the remainder added to the fuel tank for maximum performance and protection after winter or long term storage and is safe to use in all grades of diesel.

A 1 Litre bottle of OneShot Diesel First Start treats up to 500 litres of fuel
